

What is the longest wall of United Kingdom ?

It's Hadrian's Wall.

Hadrian was a roman emperor. In 122 after Christ, he decided to build a wall in the north of what is now England. The goal was to protect his territory against the people of the North, what is now Scotland.

From east to west coast, Hadrian's Wall measures 117 km long, 73 miles.

Source : Pixabay